

appealed to farmers of the United States, offering ten premiums of $1.00 each for the best returns from sorghum crops. Each competitor for this prize was required to keep an accurate account of the number of acres planted, of the quantity of cane produced, and delivered at the mill, the number of tons of cane, the yield of sorghum per acre, month of fertilizing, time of planting, time required for the maturing of the crop, value of food for cattle after the juice was expressed and quantity of sugar and syrup produced, the process of manufacturing and of the machinery used, the process of vaporization, the vacuum pan employed, a description of the mill, cost of machinery, amount expended in wages and then the value of the sorghum at the mill.

THE LESSON TAUGHT.

All these facts are given under oath, in detail, by each of the competitors for each of these ten prizes and these statements, when printed, convey to the farmers of the United States all conceivable practical knowledge of the art of sugar production from sorghum. If Texan farmers would diversify their crops and learn whether the production of sorghum may be profitably prosecuted, they would do well to secure the reports of the bureau on this subject, and as well detailed descriptions of the processes now employed in extracting saccharine matter from the cane. It is that devised by Napoleon the Great for French farmers who produced sugar from beets. On this subject the agricultural bureau is prepared to furnish all desirable knowledge, and if Texan farmers would outstrip all others in the profitability and attractiveness of their vocation, they will not fail to master every practical lesson taught by the less profitable vocation of the American bureau of agriculture. Its prosaic Georgics should be the horn-book of every American citizen.

The Panama Canal.

Washington, December 6.—Probably the Panama canal will cause a lengthy discussion in the senate. Although but little American capital is invested in the enterprise, it is contended that it will be injurious to the interests of the United States to allow the canal to be controlled exclusively by foreigners. England has seized the island at the mouth of the canal and erected a fortress there, endangering our east and west coast. The state department is now investigating the matter, and will communicate with the British government.

A TEXAS EDITOR IN LUCK.

William A. Field of Meridian, Texas, has been appointed distributing clerk of the house of representatives.

SPECIAL MESSAGE.

It is currently stated in political circles that President Arthur will make the Mississippi river improvement, the Humber canal and other matters the subject of a special message. Many prominent politicians speak of the regular message as evasive.

SHAVEN AND SHORN.

Judge Rangan's beardless face is a constant source of gossip and surprise at the capital this winter. Those who have known him long frequently fail to recognize him at first sight.

POSTAL NOTES.

Wm. Houston was commissioned as postmaster at Caldwell's store; Milton McMin at Capeville; Sandonia Henderson at Hermitage; and John Fenn at Duke, Fort Bend county. Etna postoffice, Smith county, and Randado, Zapata county, are discontinued.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

The Democratic senators held a caucus this morning, Pendleton presiding, to arrange the party's membership of committees and some feeling was displayed in respect to the habit of older members securing a majority of older members on committees. To the exclusion of younger members. The following committee was appointed to arrange the minority membership for the best interest of all, to report action at the next caucus: Harris, Cockrell, Garland, Butler, George, Morgan and Call.

EXECUTIVE ORDER.

The executive order consolidating internal revenue districts reported as applied to Wisconsin districts that the state will remain unchanged.

Washington, D. C., December 6.—An old member of the house said this morning that new men were seeking positions on the ways and means, the appropriation and judiciary committees—in fact wanted to be connected with all important committees. It is generally conceded that Morrison will be given the chairmanship of the ways and means and Randall of the appropriations committee. As associates of Morrison on the ways and means, are mentioned the names of Hewitt, Randolph Tucker, Cortin, Geddes, Herbert, Seymour, Mayburg, Cox (of New York), Kason, Hurd, Haskell, Republicans. The Democratic members do not unanimously favor Morrison's election to the ways and means chairmanship, the ground of opposition being, as expressed by the protectionists, that his appointment so closely following Carlisle's election to the speakership, would precipitate the tariff issue for 1884, and it is not the province of the speaker, nor for that matter of congress, to force political issues upon the country. The speaker is receiving at the rate of 300 letters a day, but is diligently keeping his own counsel in respect to his purposes.

LEGISLATION.

Legislation in both houses of congress will amount to but little till the standing committees are appointed. The senate committees will be ready a day or two before the holidays. It is expected by Monday that a thousand bills and resolutions will be introduced into the house.

CAPT. COWDEN.

Capt. Cowden is on hand entreating permission to appear before the senate committee on the Mississippi river and make oral argument, but has been advised to submit it in manuscript.

Congressman Taylor, Republican, of Ohio, will introduce a bill Monday to restore the old tariff on wool.

FITZ JOHN PORTER.

The Fitz John Porter bill will come up again. Logan will fight it but it is said his hostility will not be so bitter as at the last session, and probably it will pass.

EX-CHAPLAIN SUNDERLAND.
Rev. Dr. Sunderland, who was for many years chaplain of the United States senate, has caused a sensation by writing open letters to Secretary Teller and District Attorney, Cockhill, pitching into the action taken in disbarbing the attorneys, which he declares illegal and tyrannical. He wants Postmaster General Grosvenor removed for his action in forbidding postmasters to supply pension agents with certain information.

GALVESTON.

A Young Man Mysteriously Shot—Col. Britton's Tour.
Special to the Gazette.

Galveston, December 6.—Richard Mensall was fired upon last night about 8 o'clock and seriously wounded in the left side while on his way home. After being shot, he made his way to Dr. Hegel's office, who examined and dressed the wound. Mensall says while passing along the sidewalk from out of his home a man jumped from out of the oleander and commenced firing on him. Three shots were fired, one of which took effect in his left side as described. Mensall is a dissolute young man and has been cast off by his parents, who had done everything in their power to redeem him but without avail. It is thought that he was shot by a woman from the fact that a statement has been made that instantly after the firing a woman was seen to run one way and a man in the opposite direction, and still another statement that Mensall was shot by the husband of a woman he had grossly insulted. The affair is shrouded in a good deal of mystery, which the police are trying to clear up. This is the second man that has been mysteriously shot in this city within the last two weeks.

James H. Britton, state railroad engineer, arrived here in a special train to-night from an inspection tour over the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe, and leaves to-morrow for the New York, Texas & Mexican railway.

An association is being organized here to build a superb temple for use of the local Knights of Honor and Knights of Pythias.

Out of a considerable number of high-bred cattle recently brought to Galveston, many have died and the remainder are suffering from some mysterious ailment.

CLEBURNE.

Interesting Will Case Decided—Personal and Other Items.
Special to the Gazette.

Cleburne, December 6.—The jury in the Martin will case returned a verdict sustaining the original will and rejecting the codicil.

In the Atchley will case a compromise was entered into, which stopped further proceedings. To-day the damage suit of Mrs. Bacon against Joseph Brown of Fort Worth was on trial. The suit was brought to recover actual and exemplary damages for injury to business, etc., by reason of an attachment sued out by Brown on the plaintiff's stock of millinery, claiming it to be the property of her husband. The court adjourned before the case was given to the jury.

Last night the ladies of the O. S. Presbyterian Church gave a supper, but owing to the tremendous rain-fall did not succeed as well as they would have otherwise. The rain set in about dark and poured down by the buckets-fall until morning. The streets were impassable.

W. H. Martin, master car-builder of the Santa Fe, passed through last night to-day.

Col. E. A. Jones of Waco was in the city to-day.

Mr. B. H. Saunders, a prominent cotton-buyer of Cleburne, went to Macon, Ga., ten days ago and returned with his family to locate permanently

SAN ANTONIO.

Knocked Senseless by a Runaway Wagon—Arrival of Bishop Nera.

San Antonio, December 6.—This morning an empty country wagon ran away near the Sunset depot. The pole of the wagon struck an old man named Hazel between the eyes, knocking him senseless, when the wheels of the wagon passed over him. He is in a dying condition.

Bishop Nera returned here to-night from his visit to Rome. The churches were all brilliantly illuminated, and hundreds of Catholics met and marched out to meet him on his arrival. On account of a delay of the train six hours, the proposed honors to Bishop Nera were necessarily postponed. The bishop did not arrive till 4 a. m., and was met by the committee appointed to receive him on the cars. The procession and other honors to the bishop will be extended next Saturday. Hundreds of country people were here to greet the beloved prelate and have been disappointed.

ROUND ROCK.

Nuptial Chimes—A Fight Between Nameless Parties.
Special to the Gazette.

Round Rock, December 6.—Mr. Turner Rollins of Abilene was married here to-day to Miss Lillie Davis, youngest daughter of G. W. Davis, Rev. Mr. McLean of Georgetown officiating. The best wishes go with Mrs. Rollins, as she was one of our fairest flowers. The couple left at noon for their home.

An altercation took place between two of our prominent citizens yesterday which came near being serious, one of them cutting the clothes of the other. A dull knife saved his life.

SHERMAN.

Two Verdicts of Acquittal—Deputy Maddox Resting Well.
Special to the Gazette.

Sherman, December 6.—Butler Carpenter, charged with the murder of Miller, was acquitted to-day, the jury being out two hours. His brother Eph was also on trial as being accessory to the murder. The jury acquitted him without retiring. These verdicts give general satisfaction.

Del Maddox, deputy sheriff of Shackelford county, who was shot last evening, is resting well.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

Shifting Phases in the Career of a Fugitive New York Forger.

Married and Happy in His New Home—A Visit to His First Wife.

Enter Son Sam—A Murderous Assault—The Plot Thickens.

Final Flight and Exposure—Old, Poor and Terribly Cursed.

Special to the Gazette.

Houston, December 6.—A most romantic story of real life came to light to-day. In 1866, Cornelius M. Krum of Kingston, N. Y., committed forgery and fled to Texas, leaving his wife and one son. After drifting around the state for two years, he came to Houston and commenced business as a wheelwright under the name of John W. Rose. Business soon increased, and in 1873 he married a most estimable young lady. The law of the state of New York provides that such crimes as forgery are outlawed after ten years, so in 1877 he returned to his former home and remained with his family there for two months, telling them he was doing well in Texas, and not informing them he had another wife. In 1882, his son Sam, grown to be a man of twenty-six years, came to pay his father a visit, and of course immediately discovered the great wrong done his mother. He threatened his father with exposure, but the old man bought him off from time to time. Last September, the day before the grand jury was in session, Sam went home drunk and told his father he had stood it long enough, and that he would go before the grand jury next day. He then went to bed. During the night his father went to his room and shot him six times, none of which were fatal. Houston next day was full of scandal, for it was reported that Mrs. Rose had a pistol fight with Sam Rose, alias Krum. Mrs. Rose stated to officers that Sam had assaulted her, and she shot him, and pointed to the bullet holes in the head of her bed as evidence. Matters were quieted, and Sam was sent to Florida by his father. Last week Sam returned and announced his intention of exposing the whole matter, and Sunday his father fled. Sam and Mrs. Krum were before the grand jury to-day, and Rose was indicted for bigamy. Mrs. Rose states she took all the blame for shooting, at the instance of old man Rose, and Sam, although he knew his father had tried to kill him, concurred in the statement, both preferring to take the blame rather than let the facts come to light. Mrs. Rose knew nothing of the forgery or the first wife living until last week. Rose had fired shots in the bedstead after shooting his son, to bear witness that his son had attempted his wife's life. The whole affair is yet wrapped in mystery. Rose is an old white-whiskered man, over sixty years of age. His property has been seized by creditors, and his liabilities amount to about $11,000. Rose and his family stood high in the city.

WACO.

A Heavy Gale—The Grand Jury and the Gamblers—Other Local News of Interest.

Special to the Gazette.

Waco, December 6.—About 3 o'clock this morning a heavy gale prevailed here for at least a half-hour, followed by a driving rain. A small frame residence on Eleventh street, occupied by B. T. V. Black and family, was blown over, falling on one side. Mrs. Black and her infant child were hurled from the bed in which they were sleeping, but strange to say received no injuries, although the bedstead was shattered. Trees and signs were blown down and the southern portion of the city was more or less covered with water this morning. It was the heaviest gale ever known here.

The grand jury finished its labors and adjourned this morning, having returned 415 indictments, mostly for gambling. Their report read in open court this morning, raps the local officials quite severely for laxity in dealing with gambling. If the officials had done their duty, say the grand jury, gambling would not have reached such proportions as it has (or did) in Waco. The grand jury also throw cold water upon the money made by the county attorney to dismiss suits against the gamblers, taking the agreement of the latter to sin no more, provided they are let off this time. The county attorney is warned that he will be expected to prosecute each and every case to the end of the law, without fear or favor. This will probably cause a material modification of the compromise policy that was nearly agreed upon.

Tucker & Willis, the druggists who made an assignment a few weeks ago, have had their doors closed again by Richardson & Co. of St. Louis, who are not willing to take their chances with the other creditors. Richardson & Co. are creditors of Tucker & Willis to the extent of $6,000, secured by four notes and chattel mortgage on stock. The assets of the firm, when accurately figured up, amounted to $22,000, as against $11,000 liabilities. The assignee thinks of giving a replevin bond and fighting the claim of Richardson & Co. to be the preferred creditors.

The city council is in session to-night discussing charter changes and the water question. A strong petition was presented from leading taxpayers urging the council to do something in the direction of affording an additional water supply for fire as well as domestic purposes.

May, the baking-powder swindler, was indicted by the grand jury, and has employed Hon. Geo. Clark to defend him.

The Missouri Pacific train, due here from Fort Worth at 10 a. m., was ten hours late. No GAZETTE in consequence.

Another Excursion to Texas.

St. Louis, December 6.—Another big excursion party numbering about one hundred, from Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin, arrived here to-day and left to-night by the Iron Mountain train for Texas, where they will examine the land and other property with a view to investment.

AUSTIN.

Petition for Offer of a Reward—Local and Department Notes.

Special to the Gazette.

Austin, December 6.—The governor to-day received a petition from citizens of McDade asking that a reward of $500 be offered for the murderer of Isaac Heffington, a prominent citizen of Lee county, who was assassinated on the night of the 1st inst. It was deemed unwise to comply with the request, but a liberal reward will await the arrest and conviction of the assassin.

The land fraud board has acted on evidence involving 60,000 acres, and it only awaits the signature of the absent member (Mr. Patton) to be turned over to the attorney-general. The work of Col. De Morse and Mr. Patton is yet to be considered.

The Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe railway paid in to-day $604 quarterly passenger tax.

Dallas city bonds in the amount of $30,000 were registered to-day.

Treasury receipts to-day, $4,000, and $14,000 worth of Pecos county bonds were deposited with the permanent school fund.

The adjutant-general is preparing his report for the extra session, which will touch on the tendency of the Western people to rely too much on the ranger service, applying for aid under the slightest pretext.

The capital board will meet to-morrow. A thorough consideration will then be given of the trouble between Mr. Myers and Superintendent Clark. It is very probable that the latter will be ousted, notwithstanding the withdrawal of his resignation. It is equally probable that Mr. Marble, who is recommended by Architect Myers, will fall to get the position. Contractor McDonald of the Terrell asylum is mentioned in this connection.

It develops that the real cause of the resignation of Col. Ford, superintendent of the deaf and dumb asylum, was a want of harmony between him and the asylum board.

Attorney-general Templeton has not yet submitted an opinion on the right of the capitol syndicate to immediate occupation of the capitol lands, and will perhaps not do so unless the question is pressed.

Miss Annie Wilson, prominent society young lady of Austin, was married at the Episcopal church to-day to Mr. Murray, a St. Louis drummer.

MARSHALL.

A Pickpocket Pulled—Hog Thief Sentenced—A Death.

Special to the Gazette.

Marshall, December 6.—A pickpocket was arrested to-day for trying to steal Capt. S. W. Barber's watch off his person.

Edward Mitchell was sent up for three years to the penitentiary for hog stealing by our district court to-day.

James W. Brundage, an exemplary citizen, died at his residence last night.

Robberies occur nearly every night in our city.

VALLEY MILLS.

The Rain and Grain Crops—A Professor's Lecture.

Special to the Gazette.

Valley Mills, December 6.—The heavy rain which fell here last night will be of great benefit to the country in general. The prospect for small grain was beginning to look uncertain, but hopes are again revived. The business outlook is flattering; lots continue in demand, and new houses are going up daily.

Prof. Tate of Crawford delivered a fine lecture at the academy to-night on astronomy.

LONGVIEW.

Rain and Wind Storm—Telephone Progress—A Correction.

Special to the Gazette.

Longview, December 6.—A severe wind and rain storm passed the over city this morning at 5 o'clock, doing considerable damage to one house and shade trees. The front of the wagon shop of Young & Whaley was blown down, crushing the telephone wires and poles.

Foreman Knight reports that he is within half a mile of Hallville, which when completed will connect us by telephone with Marshall.

The Washington special to the Houston Post of yesterday is in error about Webster Flanagan being the father of our postmaster, Mr. S. W. Flanagan. He is a brother, and we sincerely hope he will succeed in getting the appointment of postmaster inspector for our city.

The telephone is now ten miles out towards Henderson, and when it is completed there will be an exchange built.

All trains late to-day on account of wrecks along the roads.

PALESTINE.

A Rousing Railroad Rally—Connection with New Orleans.

Special to the Gazette.

Palestine, December 6.—A big meeting was held here to-day for the purpose of raising funds for building the proposed Palestine, Sabine & New Orleans railroad. All business in Palestine was suspended. The stores were closed and the whole town was at the meeting, and planters from farms in the surrounding country crowded into town. Mayor Lacy of Palestine presided. A large sum in subscriptions of money and land was made, sufficient to place the construction of the road beyond a doubt. The road proposes to be a portion of the line between Fort Worth and New Orleans, getting connection north independent of the Gould system, and south to New Orleans. There was much enthusiasm, with speeches and liberal subscriptions. Certainly the road is successfully inaugurated and will be built.

An Indiana Tragedy.

Cincinnati, O., December 6.—Near Anderson, Ind., last evening John Johnson was shot by Coleman Hawkins and dangerously wounded. After the shooting, Hawkins returned home and shot himself, dying instantly. The cause was a dispute about a ditch between their farms. Both were wealthy farmers.
